

DriveNest Platform Support

Does the DriveNest client use a lot of bandwidth?

No. The drivenest client only sends text files periodically to the server, meaning that the bandwidth used by the client is negligible.

You can control how often a client sends data to the server by adjusting the Submission Interval from the graphical user interface of the client.

Unique solution ID: #1021

Author: algolysis

Last update: 2018-06-29 12:26